AILA Individual Member Logo

Guidelines for Use

The American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA) will provide the 2013 logo to any active-approved member in good standing. The logo may be used to indicate that an individual attorney is a member of AILA. This can be via an attorney bio on a firm website, individual attorney business cards, classified advertisements that list the name of an individual attorney, or other like print/electronic promotions.

- If, for any reason, an individual's membership should lapse or be canceled, the logo must immediately be removed from any written, printed or electronic materials maintained, displayed or distributed.
- The AILA member logo can not be modified, manipulated or changed in any way from its original design, nor can it be used as a feature or design element of any other logo (e.g., a law firm logo).
- The AILA member logo can not be used to imply an endorsement by AILA of any law firm or practice group.
- AILA membership is open only to individual attorneys, not to law firms. Therefore, use of the logo cannot imply membership in AILA by a firm, only by an individual attorney.
- The AILA member logo will only be given to active-approved AILA members who have passed their 90 day application review period.

I agree to abide by these guidelines for the use of the AILA member logo. I understand that AILA reserves the right to monitor the use of the logo at all times and may request a member who is in violation of these usage guidelines to remove the logo immediately and at the member's expense.
