

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

July 5, 2019

Ms. Cecilia Friedman Levin
ASISTA Immigration Assistance
P.O. Box 12
Suffield, Connecticut 06078

Dear Ms. Levin:

Thank you for your May 29, 2019, letter to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) regarding the transition period for the new edition of Form I-918, Petition for U Nonimmigrant Status.

The Form I-918 currently available on the USCIS website is dated April 24, 2019, and expires April 30, 2021. USCIS previously indicated that starting July 2, 2019, the agency would only accept the April 24, 2019 edition.

USCIS understands that a 2-month transition period may provide a limited grace period for the Form I-918 Supplement B, U Nonimmigrant Status Certification, specifically. USCIS will extend the grace period for accepting prior versions of Form I-918, including Supplement B, through December 31, 2019. We will provide additional information regarding the extension of the grace period on our website.

Thank you again for your letter and interest in this important issue. Sharvari Dalal-Dheini of AILA will receive a separate, identical response. Should you wish to discuss this matter further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Ken C II".

Ken Cuccinelli II
Acting Director

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

July 5, 2019

Ms. Sharvari Dalal-Dheini
Director of Government Relations
American Immigration Lawyers Association
1331 G Street, NW, Suite 300
Washington, DC 20005

Dear Ms. Dalal-Dheini:

Thank you for your May 29, 2019, letter to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) regarding the transition period for the new edition of Form I-918, Petition for U Nonimmigrant Status.

The Form I-918 currently available on the USCIS website is dated April 24, 2019, and expires April 30, 2021. USCIS previously indicated that starting July 2, 2019, the agency would only accept the April 24, 2019 edition.

USCIS understands that a 2-month transition period may provide a limited grace period for the Form I-918 Supplement B, U Nonimmigrant Status Certification, specifically. USCIS will extend the grace period for accepting prior versions of Form I-918, including Supplement B, through December 31, 2019. We will provide additional information regarding the extension of the grace period on our website.

Thank you again for your letter and interest in this important issue. Cecilia Friedman Levin of ASISTA will receive a separate, identical response. Should you wish to discuss this matter further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Ken C II".

Ken Cuccinelli II
Acting Director