Liberian Refugee Immigration Fairness

Section 7611 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020, Liberian Refugee Immigration Fairness (LRIF), allows Liberian nationals and their spouses, unmarried children under 21 years old, or unmarried sons and daughters 21 years old or older living in the United States who meet the eligibility requirements to apply to become lawful permanent residents (receive Green Cards).

This page provides specific information for Liberian nationals in the United States who want to apply for a Green Card based on the LRIF. This is called “adjustment of status.” You should also read the Instructions for Form I-485, Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status (PDF, 614 KB) before you apply.

Eligibility for Adjustment of Status

In order to be eligible for a Green Card under the LRIF, you must meet the following requirements:

- You properly file Form I-485, Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status by Dec. 20, 2020;
- You are a national of Liberia;
- You have been continuously physically present in the United States during the period beginning on November 20, 2014, and ending on the date you properly file your Form I-485;
- You are otherwise eligible for an immigrant visa; and
- You are admissible to the United States for lawful permanent residence or eligible for a waiver of inadmissibility or other form of relief.

Liberian National Requirement

If you are applying as a national of Liberia, you must submit evidence of being a Liberian national.

Continuous Physical Presence Beginning on November 20, 2014, through Filing of Form I-485

To be eligible for a Green Card based on the LRIF, you must have been continuously physically present in the United States during the period beginning on November 20, 2014, and ending on the date you properly file your Form I-485.

Aliens will be considered to have maintained continuous physical presence if their absences from the United States amount to not more than 180 days in the aggregate (total).

Grounds of Inadmissibility

To qualify for a Green Card, you must be admissible to the United States. Reasons why you may be inadmissible are listed in INA 212\(a\) and are called grounds of inadmissibility.

In general, USCIS can only approve your Green Card application if none of the relevant grounds of inadmissibility apply to you, or if you obtain a waiver of inadmissibility for any ground that applies to you. If you are applying for a Green Card based on the LRIF, all of the grounds of inadmissibility apply to you except for:

- Public charge (INA 212\(a\)\(4\))
- Labor certification (INA 212\(a\)\(5\))
- Aliens present without admission or parole (INA 212\(a\)\(6\)\(A\))
- Documentation requirements (INA 212\(a\)\(7\)\(A\))

If you are inadmissible, the law may allow you to apply for a waiver or other form of relief of certain grounds of inadmissibility that can overcome the ground of inadmissibility. You may apply for a waiver or other form of relief by using Form I-601, Application for Waiver of Grounds of Inadmissibility and Form I-212, Application for Permission to Reapply for Admission into the United States after Deportation or Removal. If your waiver or request for another form of relief is granted, USCIS may approve your application for a Green Card if you are otherwise eligible and you can demonstrate that you warrant a favorable exercise of discretion.

Whether a waiver or other form of relief is available depends on the specific inadmissibility ground(s) that applies to you and the category you are adjusting under. Eligibility requirements for waivers and other forms of relief vary. For information on the grounds of inadmissibility and waivers, please see USCIS Policy Manual Volume 8, Admissibility, and Volume 9, Waivers.

How to Apply

If you are currently in the United States, you have been continuously physically present since November 20, 2014, and you meet certain other requirements, you may file Form I-485, Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status, to apply for a Green Card based on the LRIF. You may not apply for adjustment of status based on the LRIF after Dec. 20, 2020.

Note: On your Form I-485, in Part 2, you should choose “Other Eligibility” under Item Number 1.g. In the text box, you should write “LRIF” to indicate you are applying to adjust status based on the Liberian Refugee Immigration Fairness provision.

Family Members

Eligibility Criteria for Family Members

You are eligible to apply for a Green Card as a family member based on the LRIF if you meet the following requirements:

- You are currently the spouse, unmarried child under 21, or unmarried son or daughter 21 years old or older of a Liberian national who meets the requirements of the LRIF;
- You properly file Form I-485, Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status no later than Dec. 20, 2020;
- You are otherwise eligible for an immigrant visa; and
- You are admissible to the United States for lawful permanent residence or eligible for a waiver of inadmissibility or other form of relief.

The same bars to adjustment and inadmissibility grounds apply to family members as to Liberian nationals applying for adjustment based on the LRIF.

Employment Authorization and Advance Parole Documents

When you have a pending Form I-485 based on the LRIF, you may apply for employment authorization by filing a Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization.

Note: If you are applying for adjustment of status based on the LRIF, you should enter (c)(9) as your eligibility category when completing Part 2, Item 27 of Form I-765.

If you need to leave the United States temporarily while your Form I-485 is pending, please see the Instructions for Application for Travel Document for more information. For further information, see our Employment Authorization and Travel Documents pages.
