H-1B Registration

A U.S. employer or agent (prospective petitioner) who seeks to obtain H-1B nonimmigrant classification on behalf of an individual subject to the H-1B numerical allocations will need to submit a registration during a designated registration period, unless the registration requirement is suspended by USCIS.

Prospective petitioners, or their attorneys or accredited representatives, may submit up to 250 registrations per submission

The annual initial registration period will last a minimum of 14 calendar days and will start at least 14 calendar days before the earliest date on which H-1B cap-subject petitions may be filed for a particular fiscal year.

If a sufficient number of registrations projected as needed to reach the H-1B regular cap have not been received within the initial registration period, USCIS will notify all registrations who have properly registered that their registrations have been selected. USCIS will keep registration open past the initial registration period until USCIS has determined that it has received enough registrations projected as needed to meet the H-1B regular cap.

After the end of the initial registration period, if USCIS has received more registrations than needed to Nuter tine end of the initial registration period, if USCIS has received more registrations than needed meet the projected number of registrations to reach the regular cap, we will randomly select a sufficient number of registrations. A similar process will apply for those who may be eligible for the advanced degree exemption. A Form I-129, Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker, may then be filed by the petitioner based on a selected registration to request classification of the beneficiary as an H-18 worker.

Before You Start Your Registration

■ Eligibility

A U.S. employer or agent may file H-1B cap petitions, and as such, will be required to submit an H-1B registration to be eligible to file the H-1B cap petition.

U.S. Employers: Person or entity in the United States that:

- Engages a person to work in the United States
- Has an employer-employee relationship with the beneficiary; and
- Has an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) tax identification nu

Agents: A U.S. individual or company in business as an agent may file an H-1B Registration for workers who are traditionally self-employed or workers who use agents to arrange short-term employment on their behalf with numerous employers, and in cases where a foreign employer authorizes the agent to act on its behalf.

2 Duplicates

A registrant (prospective petitioner) may only submit one registration per beneficiary in any fiscal year. If a registrant, or their authorized attorney or representative, submits more than one registration per beneficiary in the same fiscal year, all registrations filed by that registrations filed by that registrations filed by that registrations filed by that registrations flush by their authorized attorney or representative, related to the beneficiary for the fiscal year will be considered invalid.

Check your registration(s) for duplicates.

(This process is optional)

A registrant (prospective petitioner), or their authorized attorney or representative, may only submit one registration per beneficiary in any fiscal year. If a registrant, or their authorized attorney or representative, submits more than one registration per beneficiary in the same fiscal year, we will invalidate all registrations submitted by that registrant, or on their behalf by their authorized attorney or representative, related to the beneficiary for the fiscal year. Before you submit your registration(s), you can check if the registrant named in this submission previously submitted a registration for any of the beneficiaries included in this submission for the same fiscal year.

To check your registration(s) for duplicates, you must provide your Employer Identification Number (EIN) on the "About Registrant" page and add at least one beneficiary on the "About Beneficiary" page. Then, select the "Check for duplicates" button to perform the check. A duplicate will be found if you or another person already submitted a registration for the beneficiary on behalf of your organization for the same fiscal year.

Once the check is complete, you can review the list of beneficiaries who have duplicates on the previous page. We recommend staying on this page until the check is complete. If you add beneficiaries after performing this check, you can perform the check again.

Note: Using this check does not guarantee that duplicates will not be identified by USCIS at a later date. This check will compare the beneficiaries listed in this draft with any registrations previously submitted during this registration period. It will not check for duplicates within this draft or between drafts. You can review the list of beneficiaries you included on the previous page (or on the spreadsheet on your account homepage) to make sure you have not entered a beneficiary more than once. Even if utilizing this check, the burden is still on the registrant to ensure that no duplicate registrations are submitted.
